Introduction

Rainhill High School is committed to creating an environment where exemplary behaviour is at the heart of productive learning and a highly cohesive school community.

Relationships are at the core of all we do. Although as members of staff in a large secondary we expect and demand compliance from students as a starting point, it remains our job as adults to take the initiative and put in the hard work in forming relationships including with those students who are reluctant to do so. It is important to reinforce constantly to students that we are 'on their side' and want the best for them even when issuing a sanction. This is all about their learning.

Everyone is expected to maintain the highest standards of personal conduct, to accept responsibility for their behaviour and encourage others to do the same. Students' behaviour and their physical/emotional well-being are the responsibility of all members of staff at all times.

The policy applies to all year groups, the whole school day, extra-curricular activities, the journey to and from school, the entire duration of any trip and also for behaviour within the community. It should be read in conjunction with other policies and documents listed in the appendices.

Good lesson planning, in line with the Rainhill Standards for teachers goes a long way in reducing behaviour problems. Teachers are expected to read, and take account of in both planning and delivery, information relating to students with special educational needs and other groups of students who may face barriers to their learning. Teachers should ensure that these students are not at a disadvantage, for example by managing the cognitive load with the number of instructions issued at any one time.

Consistency lies in the behaviour of adults that ripples through every interaction on behaviour and not simply in the application of procedure. A truly sustainable consistent approach does not come in a toolkit of strategies but in the determination of every member of staff to hold firm. It is hard fought and easily lost. Where students feel treated as valued individuals they respect adults and accept their authority.

- The Head Students and the prefect team are role models for other students, although all students are expected to set an example across the whole school. The school provides leadership opportunities for students across all year groups.

Rewards and sanctionsRecognition and praise

Positive and productive relationships are central to excellent behaviour management. At Rainhill, we acknowledge and recognise students who meet and go beyond our high expectations.

The use of praise in developing a positive atmosphere in the classroom cannot be underestimated. It is the key to developing positive relationships, including with those students are hardest to reach. All members of staff are expected to ensure that positive comments and actions outweigh negative ones.

There are many ways to recognise positively those students who go 'over and above'. The way students are acknowledged and rewarded is very significant.

Methods include

1. Verbal praise
2. Classcharts – House achievement points
3. Additional responsibilities
4. Positive notes
5. Certificates
6. Positive phone calls home

Assemblies are opportunities for extensive celebration of achievements.

The school may use one or more of the following sanctions in response to unacceptable behaviour:

- A verbal reminder/warning
- Expecting work to be completed at home, or at break or lunchtime
- Detention at break or lunchtime, or after school
- Sending the pupil to work into another classroom with another teacher (Buddy system)
- Phone calls/letters home to parents
- Referring the pupil to a senior member of staff
- Putting a pupil 'on report'

Dealing with disruption in lessons

Engagement with learning is always the primary aim; every minute a student is out of your lesson is one where they are not learning. Classrooms must be disruption free where teachers can teach and students can learn. The starting point for all students is the Rainhill Standards and specifically the first point under 'get the basics right, that they will all do as they are told by all members of staff, the first time they are asked.

It is crucial that students experience a very high level of consistency wherever they go in the school. Breaches of the Rainhill Standards must be followed by using the warnings. Steps should always be gone through with care and consideration. Praise and recognise the behaviour you want to see.

Issuing warnings

All members of staff should consistent and deliver warnings privately wherever possible and practicable. The same applies in the internal exclusion room.

If a student behaviour continues to disrupt the learning of the class the following will be employed

- Using the Buddy system
- On-Call for a student
- Internal exclusion
- Fixed Term Exclusion

A flow chart of rewards and sanctions can be found in Appendix 1&2

Serious Breaches/Exclusion

A Serious Breach of the Rainhill Standards is an incident which will lead to an instant on-call and may lead to a fixed term exclusion internal exclusion, depending on the severity of the offence.

The following are examples, it is not an exhaustive list. Other issues may be judged to be equivalents by the school.

- Breaches of health and safety rules which endanger themselves or others.
- Verbal or physical abuse of staff or other adults.

- Wilful damage to property.

- Assault of another student or fighting, including play fighting.
- Discriminatory conduct on the basis of the Equality Act 2010, including actions which are sexist, homophobic, racist or on the basis of religion/belief.

Repair/Reconciliation

The aims of repair/reconciliation are

- restore relationships and plan for reintegration
- ensure students reflect and take responsibility for their behaviour
- teach students the behaviour staff want to see
- reinforce compliance with the Rainhill Standards
- enable any underlying issues to be raised

Reconciliations take place with the pupil and member of staff. This is to ensure that the majority of the sanction has taken place in as many cases as possible. It is important to enable a private conversation wherever possible.

Use of Reasonable Force/Screening, Searching and Confiscation

Physical restraint

- Causing disorder
- Hurting themselves or others
- Damaging property

Incidents of physical restraint must:

- Always be used as a last resort
- Be applied using the minimum amount of force and for the minimum amount of time possible
- Be used in a way that maintains the safety and dignity of all concerned
- Never be used as a form of punishment
- Be recorded and reported to parents

Confiscation

Any prohibited items found in pupils' possession will be confiscated. These items will not be returned to pupils.

We will also confiscate any item which is harmful or detrimental to school discipline. These items will be returned to pupils after discussion with senior leaders and parents, if appropriate.

Searching and screening pupils is conducted in line with the DfE's latest guidance on searching, screening and confiscation.

Offensive weapons

The school determines that, in addition to legislative guidance, any item that can inflict injury on another individual should not be brought into school.

CCTV

- The school uses CCTV for the purpose of maintaining discipline and managing behaviour and safety. CCTV is observed during the day by the IT team.

Off-site behaviour

- Sanctions may be applied where a pupil has misbehaved off-site when representing the school, such as on a school trip or on the bus on the way to or from school.

Malicious allegations

- Where a pupil makes an accusation against a member of staff and that accusation is shown to have been malicious, the headteacher will discipline the pupil in accordance with this policy.
- Please refer to our safeguarding policy/ for dealing with allegations of abuse against staff for more information on responding to allegations of abuse.
- The headteacher will also consider the pastoral needs of staff accused of misconduct.

Safer Schools Partnership Officer (SSPO)

A Safer Schools Partnership is a formal agreement between the school and police to work together in order to keep young people safe, reduce crime and fear of crime and improve behaviour in the academies and their communities.

The SSPO aim to ensure:

- the safety of students, staff and the site and surrounding areas;
- help for students to deal with situations that may put them at risk of becoming victims of crime, bullying or intimidation, and to provide support to those who do;
- focussed enforcement to demonstrate that those who do offend cannot do so without facing the consequences of their actions;
- early identification, support and where necessary challenge of students involved in or at risk of offending;
- positive relations between students and the police and between students and the wider community

The benefits for the school are

- help to identify, challenge and support students most at risk of causing harm and offending
- support to identify and help students most susceptible to the messages of violent extremism and/or gang culture, if these are particular issues in the area;
- specialist support the police can offer in difficult situation
- integrate better within multi-agency teams, helping to support more effective interventions with students and families; and

Pupil support

- The school recognises its legal duty under the Equality Act 2010 to prevent pupils with a protected characteristic from being at a disadvantage. Consequently, our approach to challenging behaviour may be differentiated to cater to the needs of the pupil.
- The school's special educational needs co-ordinator will evaluate a pupil who exhibits challenging behaviour to determine whether they have any underlying needs that are not currently being met.
- Where necessary, support and advice will also be sought from specialist teachers, an educational psychologist, medical practitioners and/or others, to identify or support specific needs.
- When acute needs are identified in a pupil, we will liaise with external agencies and plan support programmes for that child. We will work with parents to create the plan and review it on a regular basis.

Pupil transition

To ensure behaviour is continually monitored and the right support is in place, information related to pupil behaviour issues may be transferred to relevant staff at the start of the term or year. Information on behaviour issues may also be shared with new settings for those pupils transferring to other schools.

Training

Our staff are provided with training on managing behaviour
Behaviour management will also form part of continuing professional development.
